Foreword

We have chosen, as the theme of our 1967 Microphone, spirit, that intangible, ever-present quality that plays so vital a role in our school life. Spirit dwells amid us, during the good times and the bad, at the games, pep rallies and in those panicky moments of finals. Spirit creates those last minute inspirations on tests and helps us recall the answers. Spirit, and we, the student body make this school by setting its standards and realizing its ideals.

Dedication

Mr. Ernest E. Starbird

We, the Senior Class of 1967, proudly dedicate our edition of the Microphone to Mr. Ernest E. Starbird, head of the Commercial Department of Hermon High School.

As class advisor for two years, Mr. Starbird has successfully guided us toward our ultimate goal of graduation. His help and counsel will always be remembered by us all. Neither shall we forget his patience, understanding, and ever-present sense of humor. Therefore, it is with deep gratitude and lasting friendship that we pay this tribute to you, Mr. Starbird, as our special way of saying thank you for all that you have done for us.

Classes

The focal point of every school is its classes. Seniors are nearing the end of four years of work and fun. Character and individual talents have developed. The outstanding abilities of many are displayed in varied phases of school life. Every senior has one goal in mind — graduation — and all else is centered around that goal.

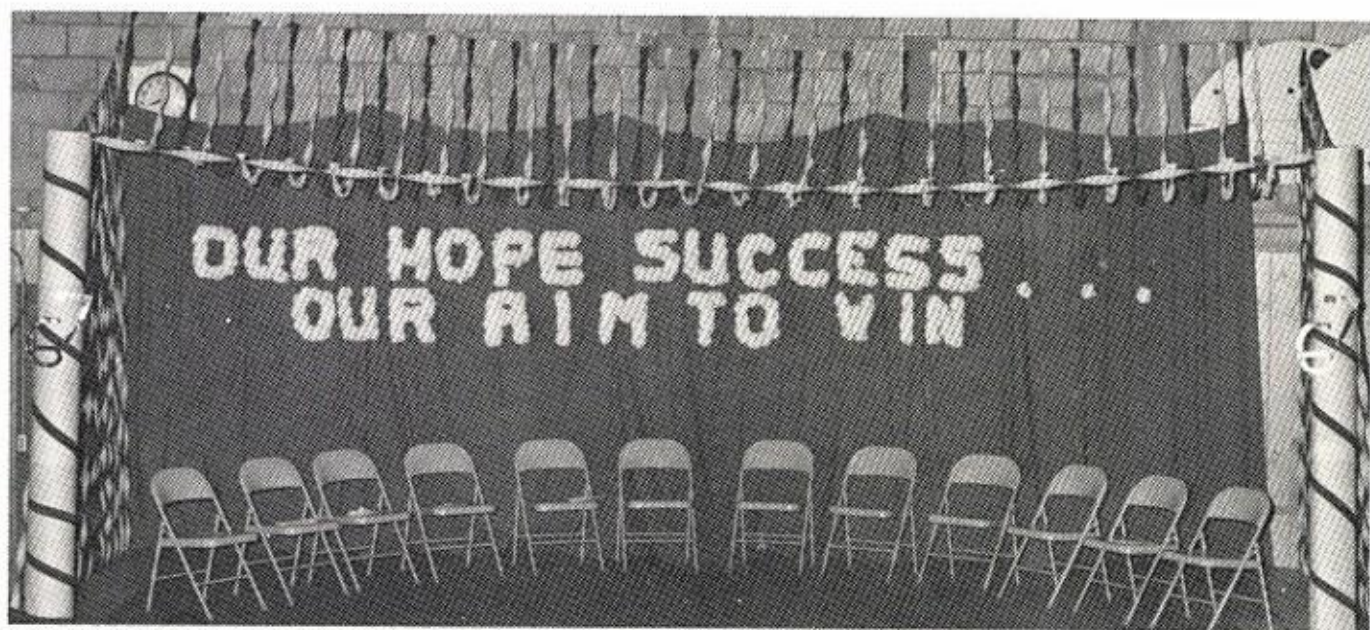

Juniors highlight our school year with Junior Exhibition, an event highly anticipated and long remembered.

Sophomores have half completed their high school career and freshmen have just begun. To both, graduation still seems an unreality.

Yet, all the classes are united through the interest and enthusiasm shown. A deep interest in learning is possessed by many, causing our lively discussion groups, self-created chemistry experiments, and the projecting of new ideas about old subjects. We have expressed the spirit of Hermon in our classes and have made 1967 an academically successful year.

Class Report

We, the Senior Class of 1967, would, first of all, like to thank the members of the faculty and the administration for making our four years at Hermon High School a very successful and rewarding experience. We would also like to give special thanks to our class advisor, Mr. Starbird, for the guidance he has given us.

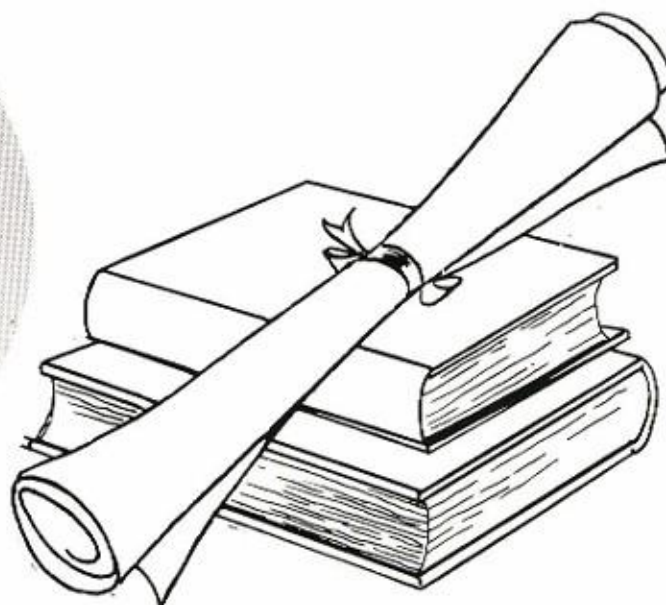

Several members of the class belonged to various school organizations: Varsity Boys' Basketball, Mark Millett; Varsity Girls' Basketball, Amelia Mahon, Sharon Walls, Kris Clukey, Jane Goss, and Gail Littlefield; Judy Clark was the JV Girls' assistant basketball coach. Elected to the National Honor Society this year were Clarice Ellsworth, Lois Erskine, Sharon Smart, Glenn Davis, and Dean Curtis.

Our fund-raising projects for the year included a bottle drive, $46.70, fudge and brownie sales $13.37, dance, $105.77, slave sale, $20.07, beanie sale $92.20, Magazine Drive bonus, $25.00, delivery of Hermon town reports, $50.00, and a car wash $4.38.

The highlight of our senior year was the Senior Prom and Banquet, held at the beautiful and secluded Jed Prouty Lodge overlooking Lake Alamoosook in Bucksport, Maine.

Activities

Let us, for a moment, look at our active classmates. This section shall be dedicated to those dynamic components of our society. The following pages are filled with pictures of the clubs, leaders and organizations which symbolize our enthusiasm and spirit at Hermon.

This year is nearly over, but our spirit in joining clubs and organizations and participating in government mustn't end here. Instead, it must travel with us as we enter the world as adults. One day, when we turn once again to these pages, we ought to remember that we contributed to the spirit of our school by taking an active part.

D A R Good Citizen

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution is an organization of women, who can trace their ancestry to those who helped gain American Independence. Their main goals are to preserve historical sites and to educate for greater patriotism.

Each year a girl from the senior class is chosen by the seniors in conjunction with the faculty on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Cynthia Lord was elected as this year's D.A.R. Good Citizen and is entitled to lifetime membership in the organization.

Athletics

We all may be proud of our athletes. Within the ensuing pages hard working and dedicated teams are pictured. We don't always win, but we try our best.

Sports at Hermon include everyone. Enthusiasm and excitement reign at every event. We all take part, if not in the actual contest, then in team support. Every day after school the teams spend hours working together as a unit, always striving for perfection. All this is done for the sake of our school. With this in mind, we would like to make this section a tribute to all the HERMON HAWKS of 1967.

Cross-Country

KNEELING: J. Hicks, A. Weeks, W. Noyes, D. Lawrence, J. Trott, G. Herbest. STANDING: Mr. Wilfred Lord, Coach, G. Sedgeley, B. Doughty, E. Wentworth, R. Clark, D. Gray, R. Curtis, D. McQuilkin, N. Greenacre, F. Sales, Managers.

The Hermon Hawks experienced their best season to date participating in ten meets including the Sectional and State Meet. The team won five of eight prior to the Sectional and also tied one. The Hawks repeated as Pendale League Champs in 1966 with a score of 34, Bucksport 50, Orono 66, and Hampden 81. John Trott earned a medal in the Pendale League Meet placing third.

Hermon qualified in the Sectional gaining third place. They repeated their best previous showing of tenth place in the State Meet. Hermon had no seniors on their 1966 team.

The top time on Hermon's home course by a Hermon runner was John Trott's 14:55. For the first time Hermon had seven runners under 16:00 over the home course.

Next year's team may well be their strongest yet, dependent on the return of the top seven runners and their continued improvement, combined with the dedicated and experienced coaching of Mr. Lord.

The Boys' Varsity Basketball team, although completing the season without a win, showed some good possibilities and promise for the coming year. The team will be hurt very little by graduating members as there was only one senior on the squad at the end of the season. With a building year in the past, we hope for a successful one in the future.

The girls' varsity team finished the season with only a 1-17 record, but it was a profitable experience for all. Although graduation will remove five names from the roster, those of Sharon Walls, Amelia Mahon, Gail Littlefield, Kris Clukey, and Jane Goss, there are good prospects in some of the undergraduates. We seniors, though parting in the physical state, leave behind a bit of our spirit for next year's competitors.

Individual Concepts

SPIRIT

Spirit is visionary and beholds realities, spiritual and psychological, historical and social. Of all realities, spirit is the most real. The world of spirit is the image of a concrete inner humanity, of an experience of human destiny, of human love and death, and of human tragedy. Spirit affirms its reality through man, who is a manifestation of spirit.

The term spirit is applied in a very wide sense. Spirit is used to denote all kinds of collectives. We speak of the spirit of a people, a class, a profession, an army, or a family. We speak of the spirit of an age, and we even speak of the spirit of materialism - of that which denies spirit. We speak, too, of the spirit of communism which is itself the death of spirit. In this sense, spirit loses its specific meaning and becomes a clue to an identity. Thus, the use of the category spirit, in relation to collective groups is misleading and should be guarded against.

Spirit is not nature, nor even psychic nature, but truth, beauty, purpose, and freedom. Spirit introduces the qualities of wholeness, unity, and design into man's psychic life.

Spirit is a being in itself of not being determined by itself. Thus, spirit is existence in one's own proper world and is one's own property.

LUCIDITY

He lay in the dark alley sobbing in pain. His body was badly bruised and beaten. Will stared in horror at the small child; he couldn't be more than eight years old. Guilt rushed over Will as the impact of the rash action of him and his comrades dawned within his conscience. Indeed, his friends were still laughing and hurling crude insults. "Dirty Jew! Rotten murderer!" Why did we do this? What possessed us to chase this little kid and throw rocks at him? What right had we to kick and beat on him? These thoughts raced through Will's mind as he gazed at the child, so defenseless and in evident pain. He stared in wonderment at his tormentors as he pleaded, "Help me, somebody." Will turned and looked hard at his companions, but their faces were unclear, contorted with hate and prejudice; suddenly Will was revolted with them all. He walked over to the child and gently gathered him in his arms. "Don't be afraid," he whispered compassionately, "I'm going to take you home." Walking down the street with the small Jew in his arms, Will hardly heard the derisions of the others as his eyes met those of the little boy, eyes full of sincere gratitude and understanding that warmed the very depths of Will's soul.

FAMILY AFFAIR

On our planet known as Earth, there is a family known by the name of Spirit. There is School Spirit, Team Spirit, Christmas Spirit, National Spirit, Freedom Spirit, Love Spirit, and Religious Spirit.

School Spirit is given the job of activating morale in students, and making them want to represent their school in any way possible, while Team Spirit's function is to put forth the idea of working together as a whole. The happiness and jolliness of Christmas Spirit makes his job quite easy, since influencing little children and making them happy is not always hard, but National Spirit has to encourage citizens of each country to have respect for their government, to obey regulations to improve the nation, and to have pride in their country's beauty and heritage. Revolutions, constitutions, and protection of civil liberties illustrate Freedom's crusade against tyranny. Love, with a mother's tender touch, looks after the rest of her children, and humanity, with gentleness and understanding. She is the cause of much argument, and the healer of many sorrows. Her power is mighty and she is the center of all things. Religion is the communication between God and mankind, so with fatherly interest he attempts to seek out the answer that each individual presents in prayer. He holds a world for all to look forward to, through eternity.

So one notices how the combined word "Spirit" strives to support the well being and satisfaction of each individual. This is certainly a FAMILY AFFAIR and spirit in itself.

Of Spirit

SPIRIT

To many it's a sort of intangible ideal
An imaginative thing, not actually real,
But it helps guide our lives, motivates what we do
Whether we laugh and joke or we pledge to be true.

Some think it's incentive, a spark burning bright
The same that has always lit Freedom's light,
And still you might hear that it's something you see
Well, maybe it is, you can't prove it by me.

To different people, it means different things
A feeling of victory, an angel with wings,
The joy found in giving, these all take the part
To me it's a language, expressed by the heart.

LIVING SPIRIT

In the church
The body rests,
He'd lived his life
And done his best.

No one could help it,
God gave his call,
Please don't worry
I love you all.

The tears trickle
Down their cheeks,
But in the air
A Spirit speaks.

I've lived my life,
So please don't cry,
I'll meet you in
The by and by.

LOCKER PERSONALITIES

Every locker I've seen reflects the personality of its owner. For instance, Harry-in-a-Hurry's locker is topsy-turvy, with no order. And it seems that every time he opens it, he has to slow down and pick his books up off the floor. There seem to be lots of these! And then there is the neat type, like Larry-Line-'em-Up. His books are always in a neat row, with no loose papers floating around. He's usually the type that likes alphabetical order and all his books the same size.

Lots of times between these two extremes, there are personalities totally unique, but usually unnoticed. Take Under-Dog-Debbie. The book she wants is always on the bottom. And there's Lucky Louise, whose locker is a tangle of papers, books, and sweaters. She never loses a thing out of her locker onto the floor. And, as always, there's Snack-Bar-Sam. He's the guy who is always eating. Hence, his is a locker full of candy wrappers, sandwich papers, and old ice cream sticks. Often, there is a picture collector who uses his locker to exhibit his most prized photos. And there is usually a Combination-Charley, who's a going guy and always busy. His locker is a combination of all the other types. Have you ever wondered what type of personality you have? I'll bet your locker could tell you!

SONNET II

A flighty sprite, an intangible one
That dwells in the thoughts and deeds of mankind,
Through countless ages before and to come
A presence needed to search and to find.

The types are many and each important
To provide incentive, pride, and fairness,
A combination quite significant;
The difference between defeat and greatness.

All these are brothers with a common fame
One's national, one's school, another-team,
Christmas, religion, love of freedom's name,
Especially love; are what spirit means.

A family, the student, the soldier, the child-
All need SOME Spirit to make life worthwhile.

Advertisements

This 1967 edition of the Microphone is nearing its end, but before we file our yearbooks in that drawer for memories, we must take time to thank the businessmen and businesswomen of our community, who have made this book possible. These advertisers have served through their co-operativeness and willingness to patronize us. These people are not only the backbone of our community, but they are the backbone of our yearbook as well. To show them our appreciation, let us go to their places of business; they will serve us well.

To the advertisers: a hearty thank you from the students of Hermon High School.

Farewell

As graduating seniors, the time has come to bid out last good-bye to Hermon High. The 1967 Microphone is finished, and the staff sincerely hopes it captured the spirit and excitement of the past year. A yearbook is not produced by one single effort. It requires team co-operation and spirit. Both were qualities of this year's staff.

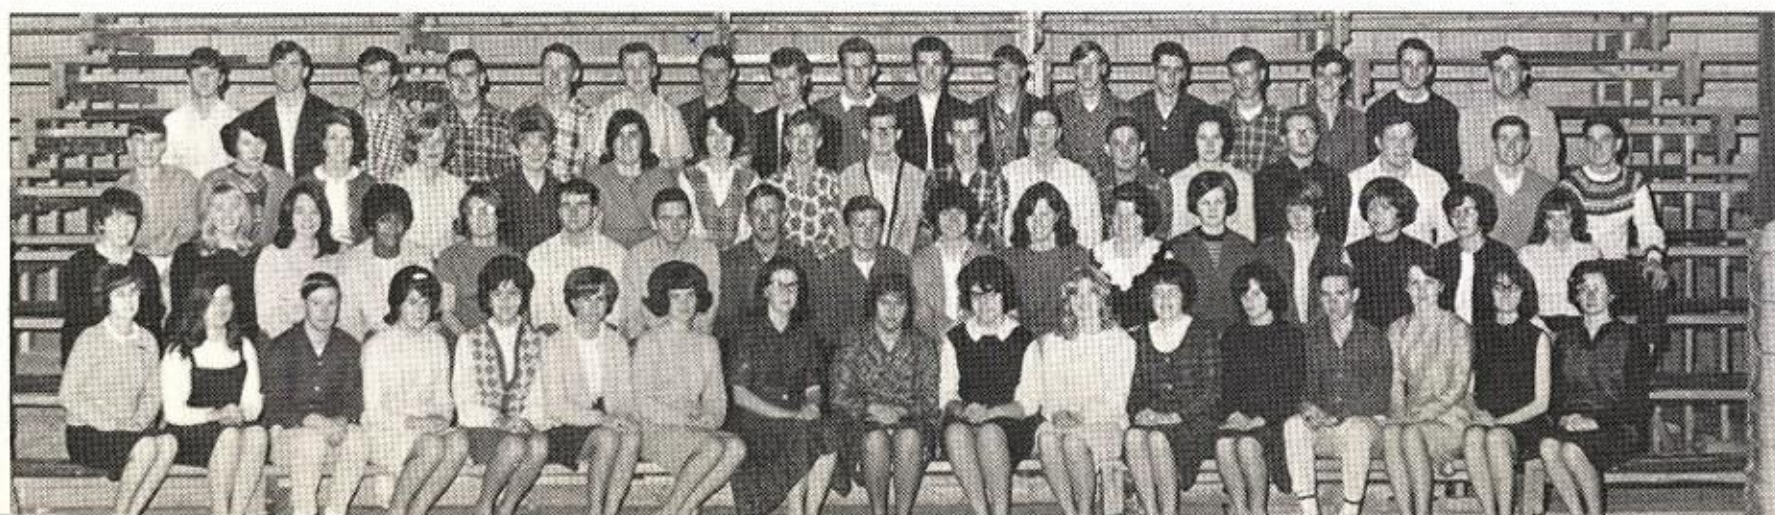

May thanks to our exceptional staff. They all contributed to the success of this year's Microphone and we are proud of each of them. Thanks to every one of you.

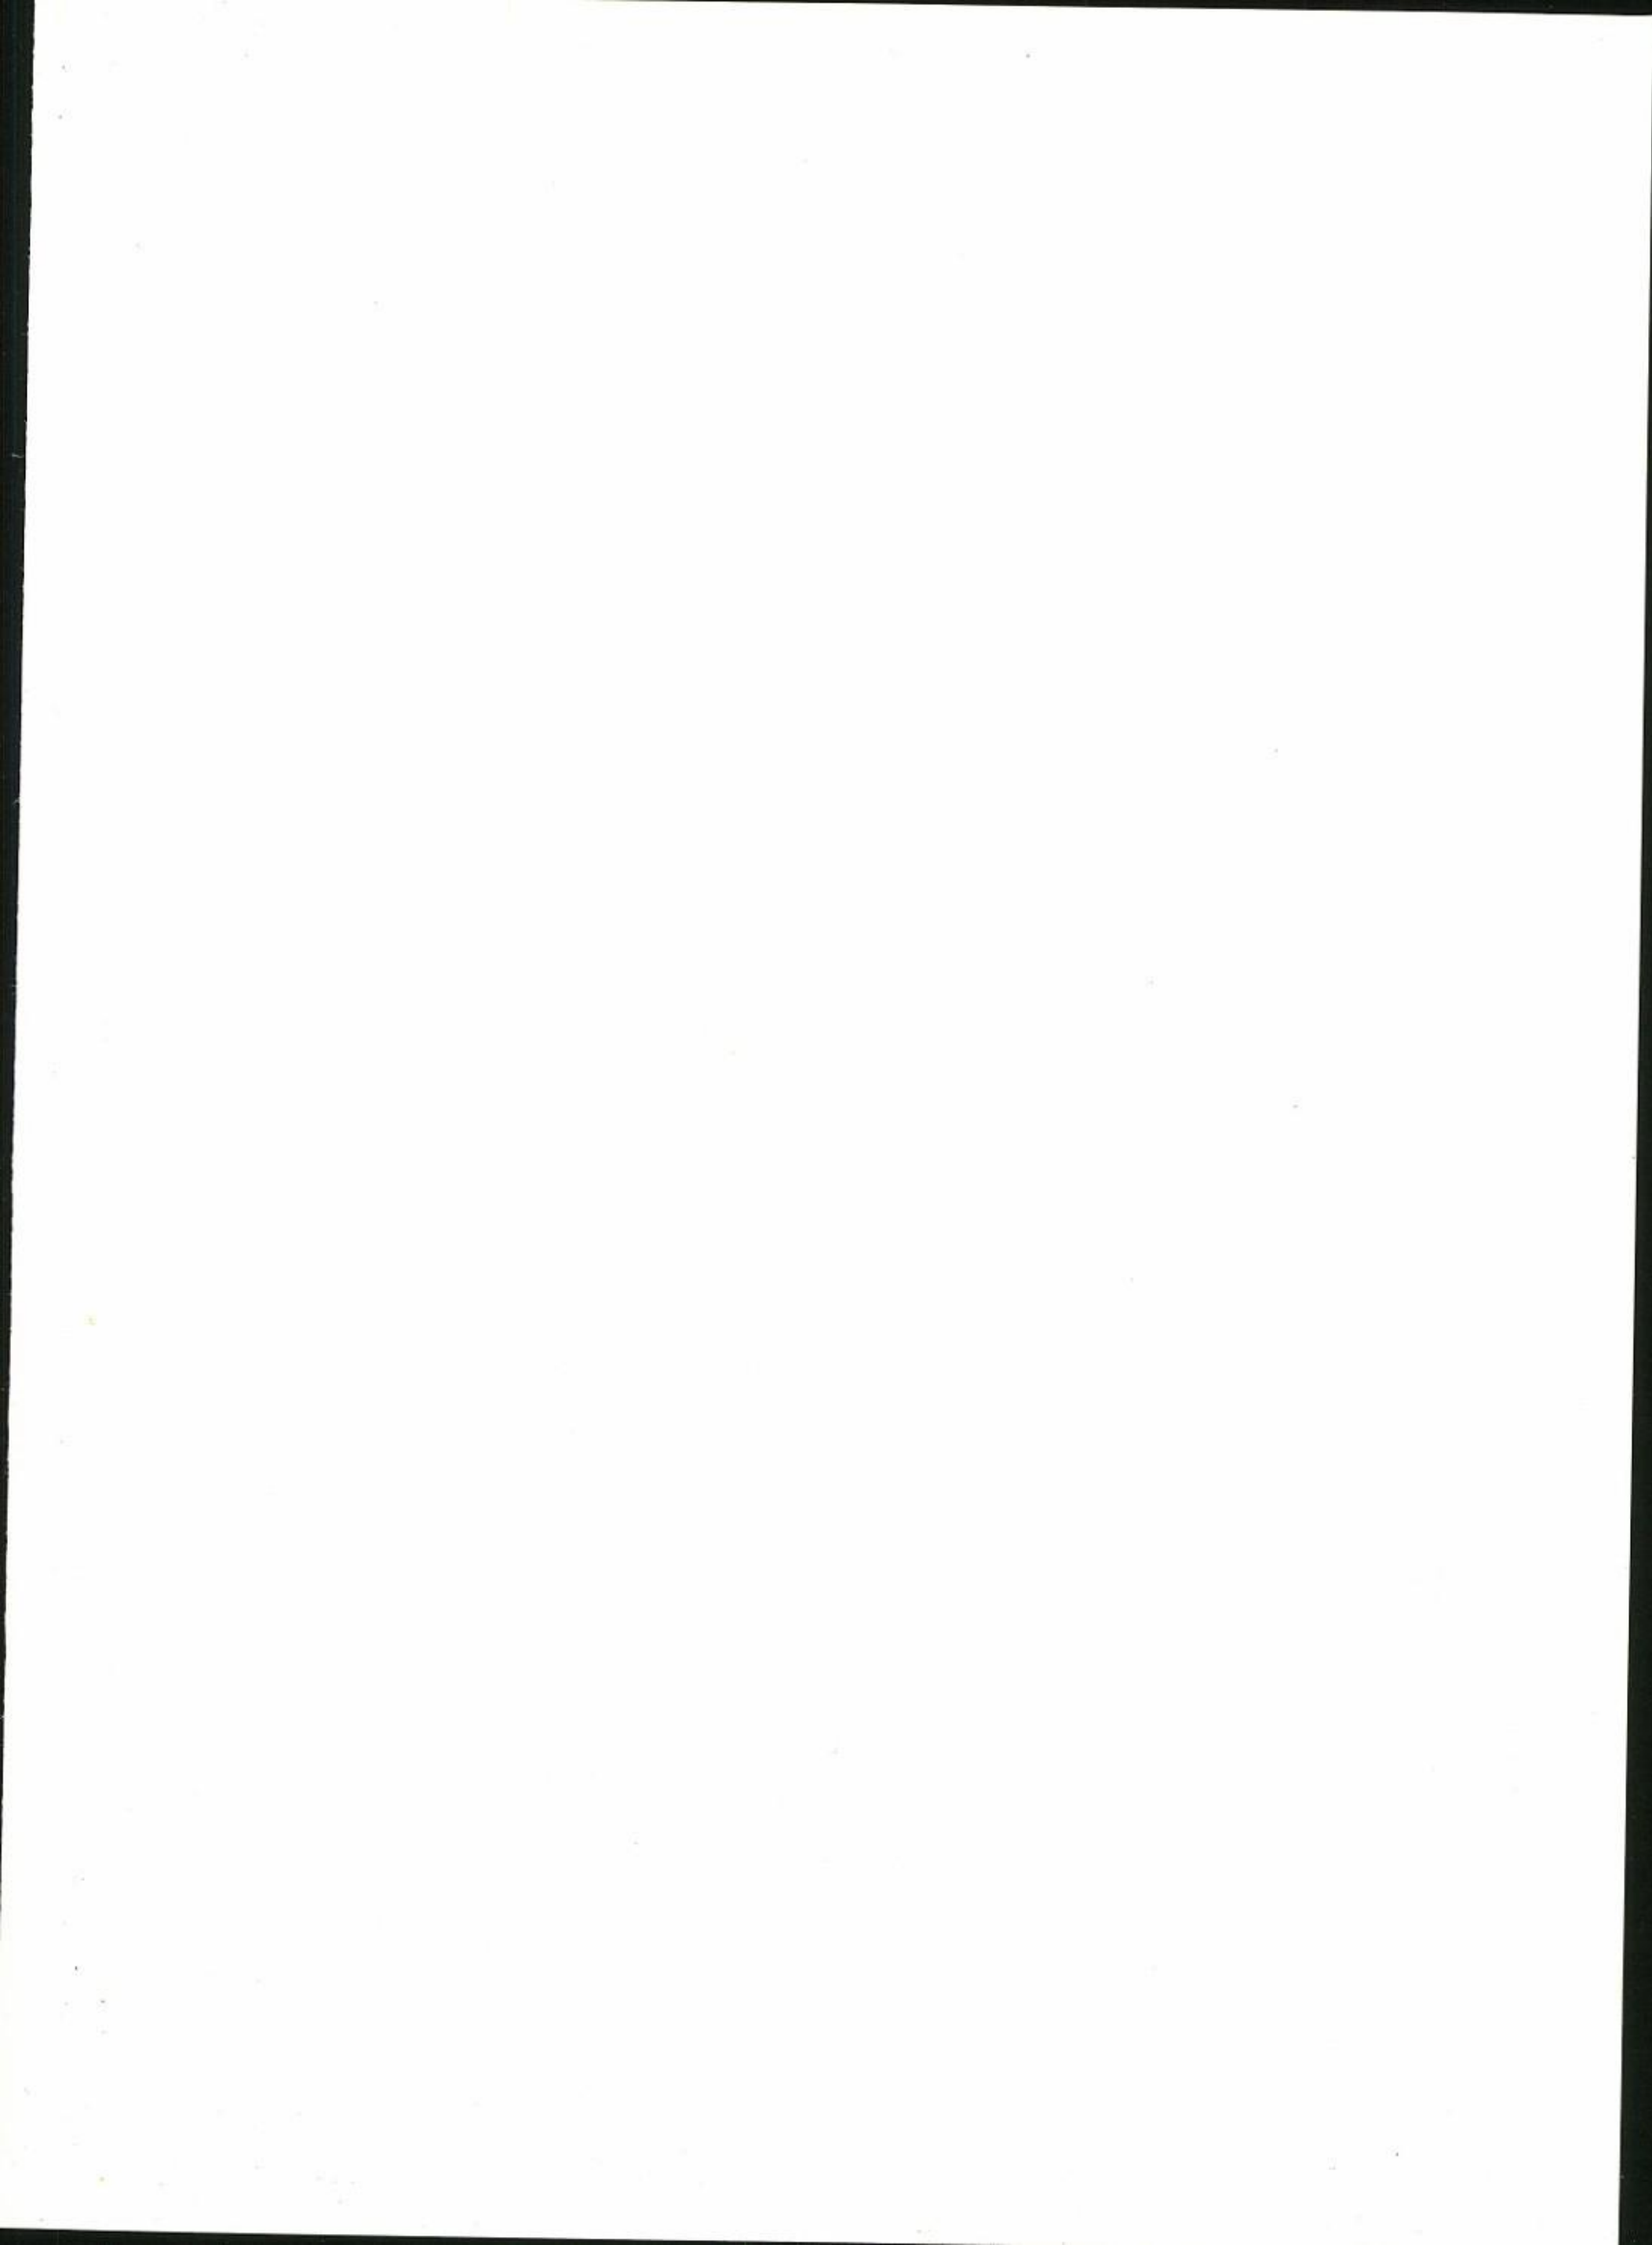

A special thanks to the faculty for allowances and mutual assistance given. We appreciate the patience displayed while the staff was absent on ads, and while pictures were taken for our yearbook.

We would like to say thank you, also, to our yearbook advisor, Mrs. Bemis, for her guidance in presenting this annual. Her dependability and help were great assets to us.

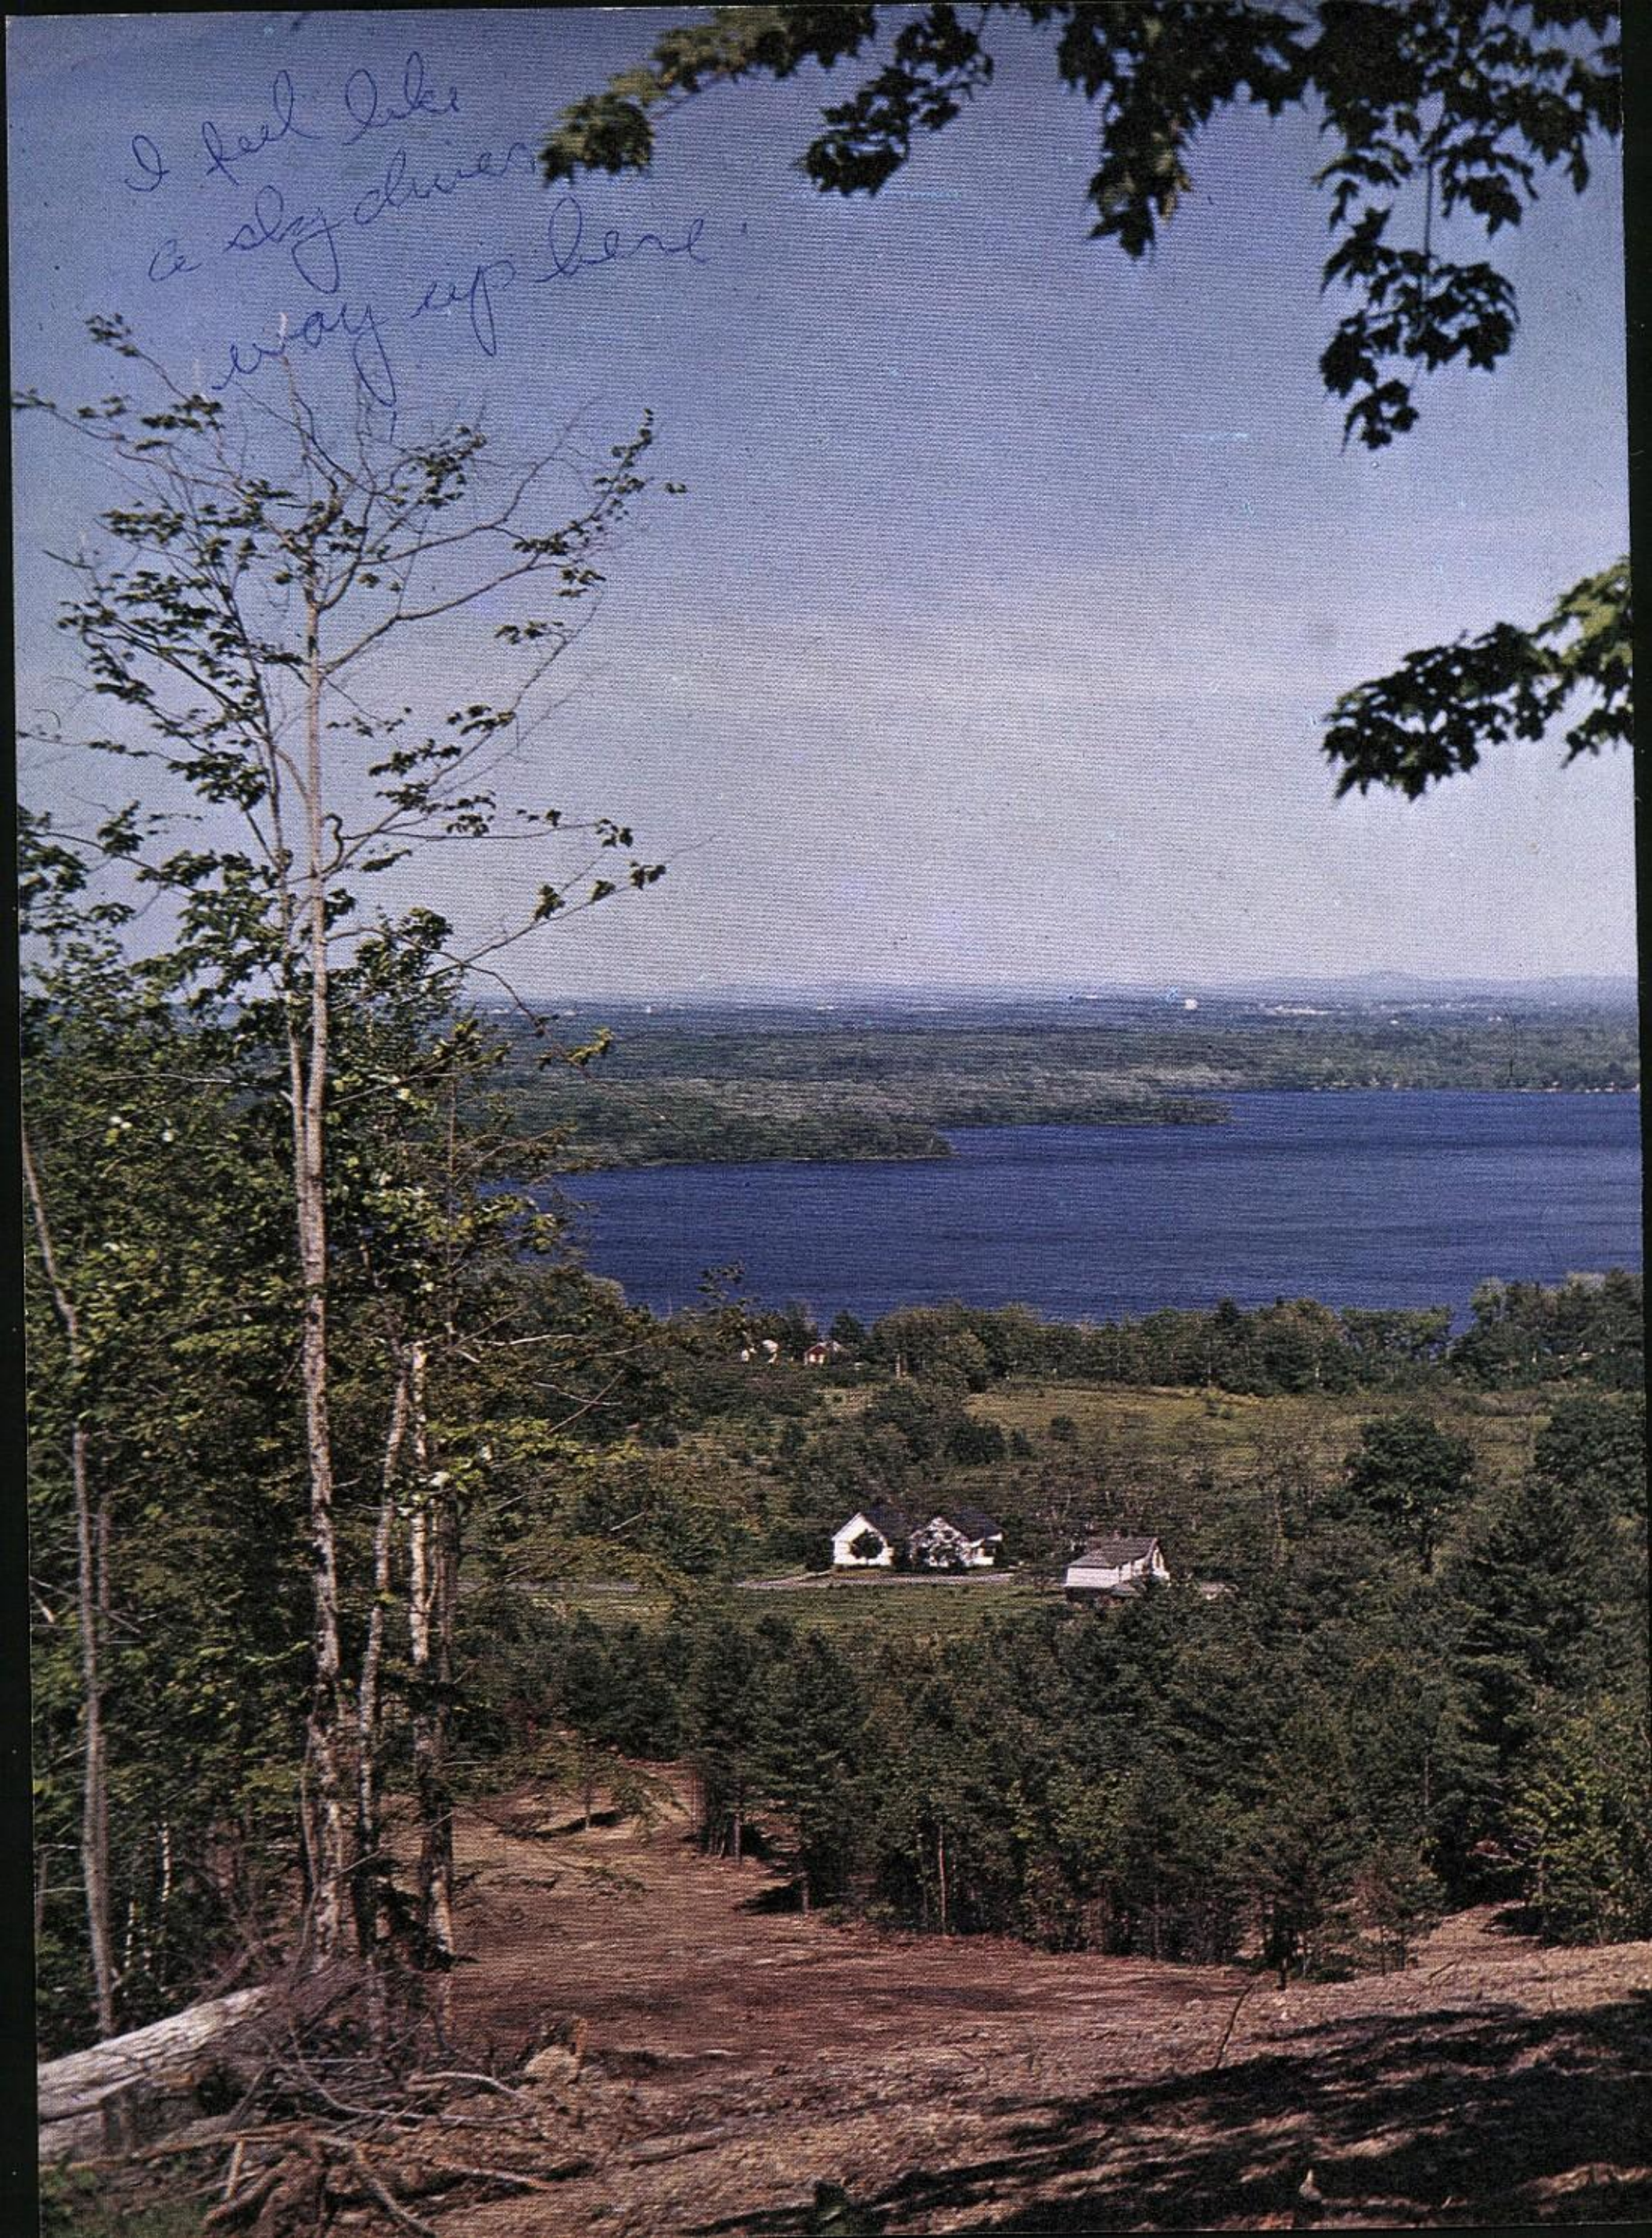

To the underclassmen, a fond farewell and sincere wishes for success. May your individual senior years mean as much to each of you as ours meant to us.
